

Nashville Union.

THE UNION has the largest circulation of any newspaper in Tennessee—the City and Army circulation more than a double any other paper.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1865.

The Spirit of the Times—Old Robertson.

We are indebted to Messrs. Cone, Tunnel & Co., for late papers.

The Question of the Day—Have we a Municipal Government?

Ob, woman! Two women committed highway robbery in New York Christmas week.

Embarrassed gentlemen—difficult debtors.

All owing to the whiskey-tax—the sand of Nashville.

An order has been issued by Genl. Miller, in obedience to the command of Maj. Gen. Thomas, calling in all safe-guards, and announcing that hereafter no application for such guards will be entertained.

Security Loan Office at the sign of Three Gold Stars, 29 Cherry street.

For the latest styles, the neatest and prettiest dry goods, motions &c., go to W. Freeman & Co., 28 Public Square, corner of Decatur street.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Messrs. E. P. Ferry, Delano T. Smith and J. C. Rogers' United States Revenue Commissioners. They propose to collect the tax on property due from Davidson County.

A new mode of travel—in a bluff.

A widow in London advertises for a husband who is in the habit of washing himself. "Thereby hangs a tail"—of dirt, probably.

A London paper says Mr. Spurgeon deserves to be called reverend. Diluted would suit him better.

Carpenters wishing employment are referred to the advertisement of Mr. A. C. Bruce. He wishes to employ a number, and will give excellent wages.

Citizens wearing the uniform of the United States soldiers, or any part of it, had better see to it that they don't other toggy after to-day, unless they have a desire to be arrested.

Vice-Admiral Farragut was in Washington Saturday.

The latest American Novelty—Bounty Jumping.

See the advertisement of Pratt's Dancing Academy. In addition to dancing, lessons in music will be given where desired; and music furnished on public occasions.

Was CLAIMED.—The attention of all persons having claims against the U. S. Government is called to the advertisement of Jno. F. Ison, late Captain and Post Q. M., Nashville. Office No. 66 north Cherry street. Jan. 6—1m

Yesterday was a big day in Recorder Sloss's Court, no less than 40 law-breakers having been tried and tried. Of these, 24 were arrested for drunkenness; 19 for disorderly conduct; 1 for acting as police-men; 1 for killing and shooting in a fight; 5 for drunkenness and disorderly conduct; and 1 for stealing. Two of the disorderly gents were required each to pay over $200 and costs.

We are glad to learn that the order to take the City Hotel has been suspended, and the Medical Director has authorized the proprietors, J. R. Wimbush & Co., to resume business, which they will do to-day. The numerous patrons of this Hotel will be much gratified; and can now return to their quarters. Long wave the City Hotel.

A New Orleans critic describes Anna Bishop's voice as clear as a bell, and says you could see through it. Does he mean it is cracked?

Queen Victoria has bought up a cast-lead of canes to have Prince Albert's bust cast upon them. Poor Queen, her grief is evident.

It appears that E. A. Pollard, of the Richmond Examiner, has been permitted to return to Richmond to get Richardson, of the N. Y. Tribune, exchanged for himself. While Richardson has been lying in prison for upwards of twelve months, Pollard, since his capture, after a brief experience at Fort Warren, was on parole in New York, until he left for Richmond. He speaks glowingly of his reception in Boston by merchants and lawyers. He was invited to dine, to ride, to visit, and discovered ardent sympathy for the South among the most influential classes.

A meeting held at Carthage on the 5th inst., over which Col. T. H. Williams presided, appointed the following delegates to represent Smith county in the State Convention:

W. J. Cleveland, J. W. Bowen,

Pancake Mackey,

C. G. Sherry,

A. M. Jones,

Wade Jones,

Jas. A. Thomas,

J. T. Armstrong,

G. W. Massie,

Ed. Turner,

Wm. Van Dorn.

The morning train from Louisville will arrive here at 4 P. M., and the afternoon at 2:30 night.

The Richmond Whig has adapted its logic to the new condition of affairs. It stoutly argues that "even with the loss of Hood's army, the Confederacy is as strong as ever." We suppose that the loss of Lee's army, involving a vagabond and transitory existence to the Whig, similar to that of its mentor, is equally good. The Whig is dead—long live the King!" But, kill the Whig, and then what? Of course, he could not be replaced.

Starrett—The "Dumb Girl of Genoa," "Rob McDonald," and "Nina, the Good for Nothing," constitute the bill at the Old Theatre tonight. Mr. McDonald plays Stradella and Robert McDonald Miss Lotte appears as Nan.

Patron's answer to Drayton—A weekly newspaper to Drayton Thursday night next Jan. 12th, for gentlemen accompanied by ladies.

It is reported that Hood has been suspended, on the command of the rebel Army of the Tennessee, by Gen. H. S. Ripley.

Gen. Grant has subscribed $100 to the fund to purchase a homesick for Gen. Sherman.

The manufacture of Parrot guns has been ordered to be suspended.

The Kentucky rebels were very anxious over Bourdin's failure in September to take the Virginia Salt Works. They said "we eat salt after salt, but get pepper." On his last expedition he got salt, and salted the gates of his "pantry." Come to Nashville, Fae.

The Washington Chronicle says Mr. Prentiss, of the Louisville Journal, represents the people of Richmond as fully prepared to accept the freedom and arms of the slaves. Alas, for the Virginians! Therefore, they depended on for what they misname, independence!
